To Mrs. Poley and Mr. Hulihan, we, the Class of 1960 dedicate our yearbook. In the past four years you have shown us the right way to live by your kindness, understanding, and sincerity. It is difficult to express the love we have in our hearts and our real appreciation for all the help you have given us. We feel a sadness in leaving you, but we know you have done all you can to make us good citizens and now the rest is up to us. We hope as you hear our names in the years to come you will be proud, for you have given us our ideals. Thank you.

Class History

On September 4, 1956 twenty-six confused, clumsy, eager "giggleboxes" tumbled into Room 13 for what was afterwards known as our Freshmen year of High School.

We started this year with none other than the honorable Mrs. Poley and Mr. Hulihan. Incidentally, they must have been forewarned (if any warning was needed) of our mischievousness—for immediately after the second bell sounded Mr. Hulihan began his speech. We were assigned seats and since there weren't quite enough to go around three or four girls were "handed over" to Mrs. Poley. Next we held a class meeting and elected David Johnson as president. With the help of our advisors we formed groups and planned our first activity—a supper. After much discussion (and many arguments) we fell back on the old "stand-by"—Roast Beef. As it was, the supper could have easily been a big success, but being "greenhorns," we sort of slipped up, merely because we were afraid to ring doorbells!

During our Freshmen year we gained another classmate, Donna Phebus, bringing the total of "devilish freshmen" up to a grand total of twenty-seven.

In September of 1957, ours was a class of eager "kids"—all ready to tell about our first "paying jobs," which many of us had during the summer. Included in this eagerness were three new faces—Margaret (Margie) Kopp, Cynthia Lukowski and James (Jay) McManus with whom we were already acquainted from grammar school. Over the summer two of our "old faces," Allen Nober and Wayne Young, had left us—leaving a total of twenty-eight to see the Sophomore year through.

In our big election of 1958 Rosa Mary Bennett was elected president.

Another Roast Beef supper was planned, again after much discussion. This supper also met with ill-fate, for on this same night the athletic department had a track meet scheduled. Here again, our money sort of flew past us—as if given to wing. Our "main eaters" were all at the track meet, besides a great deal of our help!

Next on our schedule for that year, was a dance. We named it the "Sock Hop"—and worked hard—at the last minute. It turned out as all dances, we didn't make much, but at least we had a good time and didn't lose anything.

Two of our classmates left us during the year—Margie Kopp and Donna Phebus; Jacoba Young left us at the end of the year to get married.

The year 1958-59 started with much excitement, for this was a year of "many happenings." Counting noses we found twenty-six, then in January added one, Carole Stahl, making twenty-seven. Alfred Schneider was elected president at our first class meeting.

In November of 1958 we became the proud owners of shiny, new class rings.

Looking over our treasury reports we were astonished to find we were badly in need of money for our long-awaited Washington Trip. To help fill this gap we again held a Roast Beef Supper. Our ill-fated Roast Beef Supper again met with disastrous results—this time the flu. On the day it was to be held the school was shut down because of an epidemic of flu. Rolls, pies, salads, potatoes, vegetables and meat all had to be stored till a further date could be set. We were very sorry to inconvenience our friends, neighbors, relatives and the community this way—but as it was, that was much better than giving them the flu.

After the supper we started planning for our class play. We selected a play entitled "You'll Die Laughing" and, under the direction of Mr. Scheuran, were assigned parts and began practicing. Two weeks before the play we started to sell tickets. If we missed any doorbells, blame it on sore feet and sore thumbs.

The Junior Prom was our next aim and we had been planning for it before we got our play out of the way. We chose an oriental theme—"Cherry Blossom Time." Our Queen was Deanna Essleman and the King, Jimmy Meyer.

We had a nice turnout, and from all reports heard, adults as well as students had a wonderful time.

Our senior year started with even more enthusiasm. Our Washington Trip was finally coming and not too far in the future!

On October 21, 1959 at 8:55 a.m. we gathered in Room 18 to discuss our trip with Mr. Hulihan, Mrs. Poley and Mr. Sullivan.

On November 28, 1959 a bunch of twenty-five excited, half-asleep seniors gathered at 5:30 to start for Washington.

Robert Rasmussen was elected president of the senior class, which had now dwindled to twenty-five with the loss of Jay McManus during the summer.

Dena Kennedy was elected editor of the yearbook and "The Chieftain" of 1960 started being planned, under the direction of Mr. Burke.

These are all memories to us now. We've had a nice "visit" at N.H.S. and only hope we've set the right kind of example for our underclassmen whom we have grown to know and love as brothers and sisters.

We are grateful to the teachers and Mr. Sullivan for guiding us through these twelve years—especially Mr. Hulihan and Mrs. Poley who helped us through the four hardest years of our lives.

We hope that they aren't anxiously awaiting the time when they will be rid of us and that if we meet them on the street and yell "Hi Mom and Pop—they won't be too embarrassed.

Wendell Having finished his four year course in Business Administration at Carnege Institute, Wendell is now busily at work counting boards at Narrowsburg Lumber Company.

RosaMary Eight years of graduate study at Albany Business College have qualified Rosa Mary to open a typewriter repair shop in Cohecton, New York.

Gerta After going through Art School, Gerta is now working as a commercial artist, painting Camel signs on the Empire State Building.

Maria Having smashed her father's car, Maria has moved to Italy where she is one of the leading sports car drivers.

Joe Joe has finally reached the high point of his gambling career, which he started in his last year of high school. He now owns a hotel in Las Vegas with five hundred slot machines, pinball machines and fixed roulette wheels.

Allen Al finally mastered the art of leaning on the scales of the Produce Dept. Unfortunately the police remembered the N. Y. C. butcher scandal. Al is now happily at work crushing rocks for the Highway Department.

Fred Olympic Champion billiard player, Fred has completed writing the best seller, I Have a Way With Chubby Women.

Joan Having worked since graduation as a grease monkey in Hankins Garage, Joan has decided to go into business for herself. She now owns the Cadillac Corp. of New Guinea.

Carl Carl spent eight years in engineering school but gave up the profession to become a tree surgeon under his father.

David After graduating at the top of his class, both in high school and R.P.I., and winning the pulitzer prize in 1970, Dave has finally settled down to be a non-conformist.

Dena Dena has finally made a name for herself, after ten years of hard work. She is the top woman in her company, the leading Beauty-Rest Mattress Tester.

Dottie Dottie, after three years training as a telephone operator, has taken up a position in a private telephone-answering service. She is going to replace Sam on the Richard Diamond Show.

Cynthia After many years of hard training with Art Wall, professional golf instructor, Cynthia has won her first tournament. She led the other two contestants by 146 strokes in the First Spanish Guinea Invitational.

Nancy Nancy, who was very good on the trampoline in high school, has secured a job demonstrating trampolines for the Niessen Company at Madison Square Garden.

Carol M. After high school, Carol set out for Florida to study at a beauticians school. Rising in her profession, she is now private manicurist for Jack Paar.

Bob N. After studying at Delhi for three years, Bob transferred to the University of Wisconsin for four more years. Now he is working in a diamond mine in the Belgian Congo.

Frances Fran, one of the top models in the U. S. and France, is mostly doing commercial work on t.v., posing for Marlboro Ads.

Bob R. A long time engraver for the New York Times, Bob has now gone into business for himself---counterfeiting!

Carole Carole, after graduating from journalism school, has taken up a position with "True Confessions", where she writes a monthly scandal column.

Margaret Margaret has gone to Cornell University and is now an accomplished math teacher. After many years of job hunting she found work as an official timer for the Olympic games.

Madalyn Madalyn, after ten year of marital bliss, has been voted "Housewife of the Year", even though she's been married five times.

Wanda Wanda is now the High Society World's leading debutante. Many beaux are after her heart, but she's saving it for that "Special Someone".

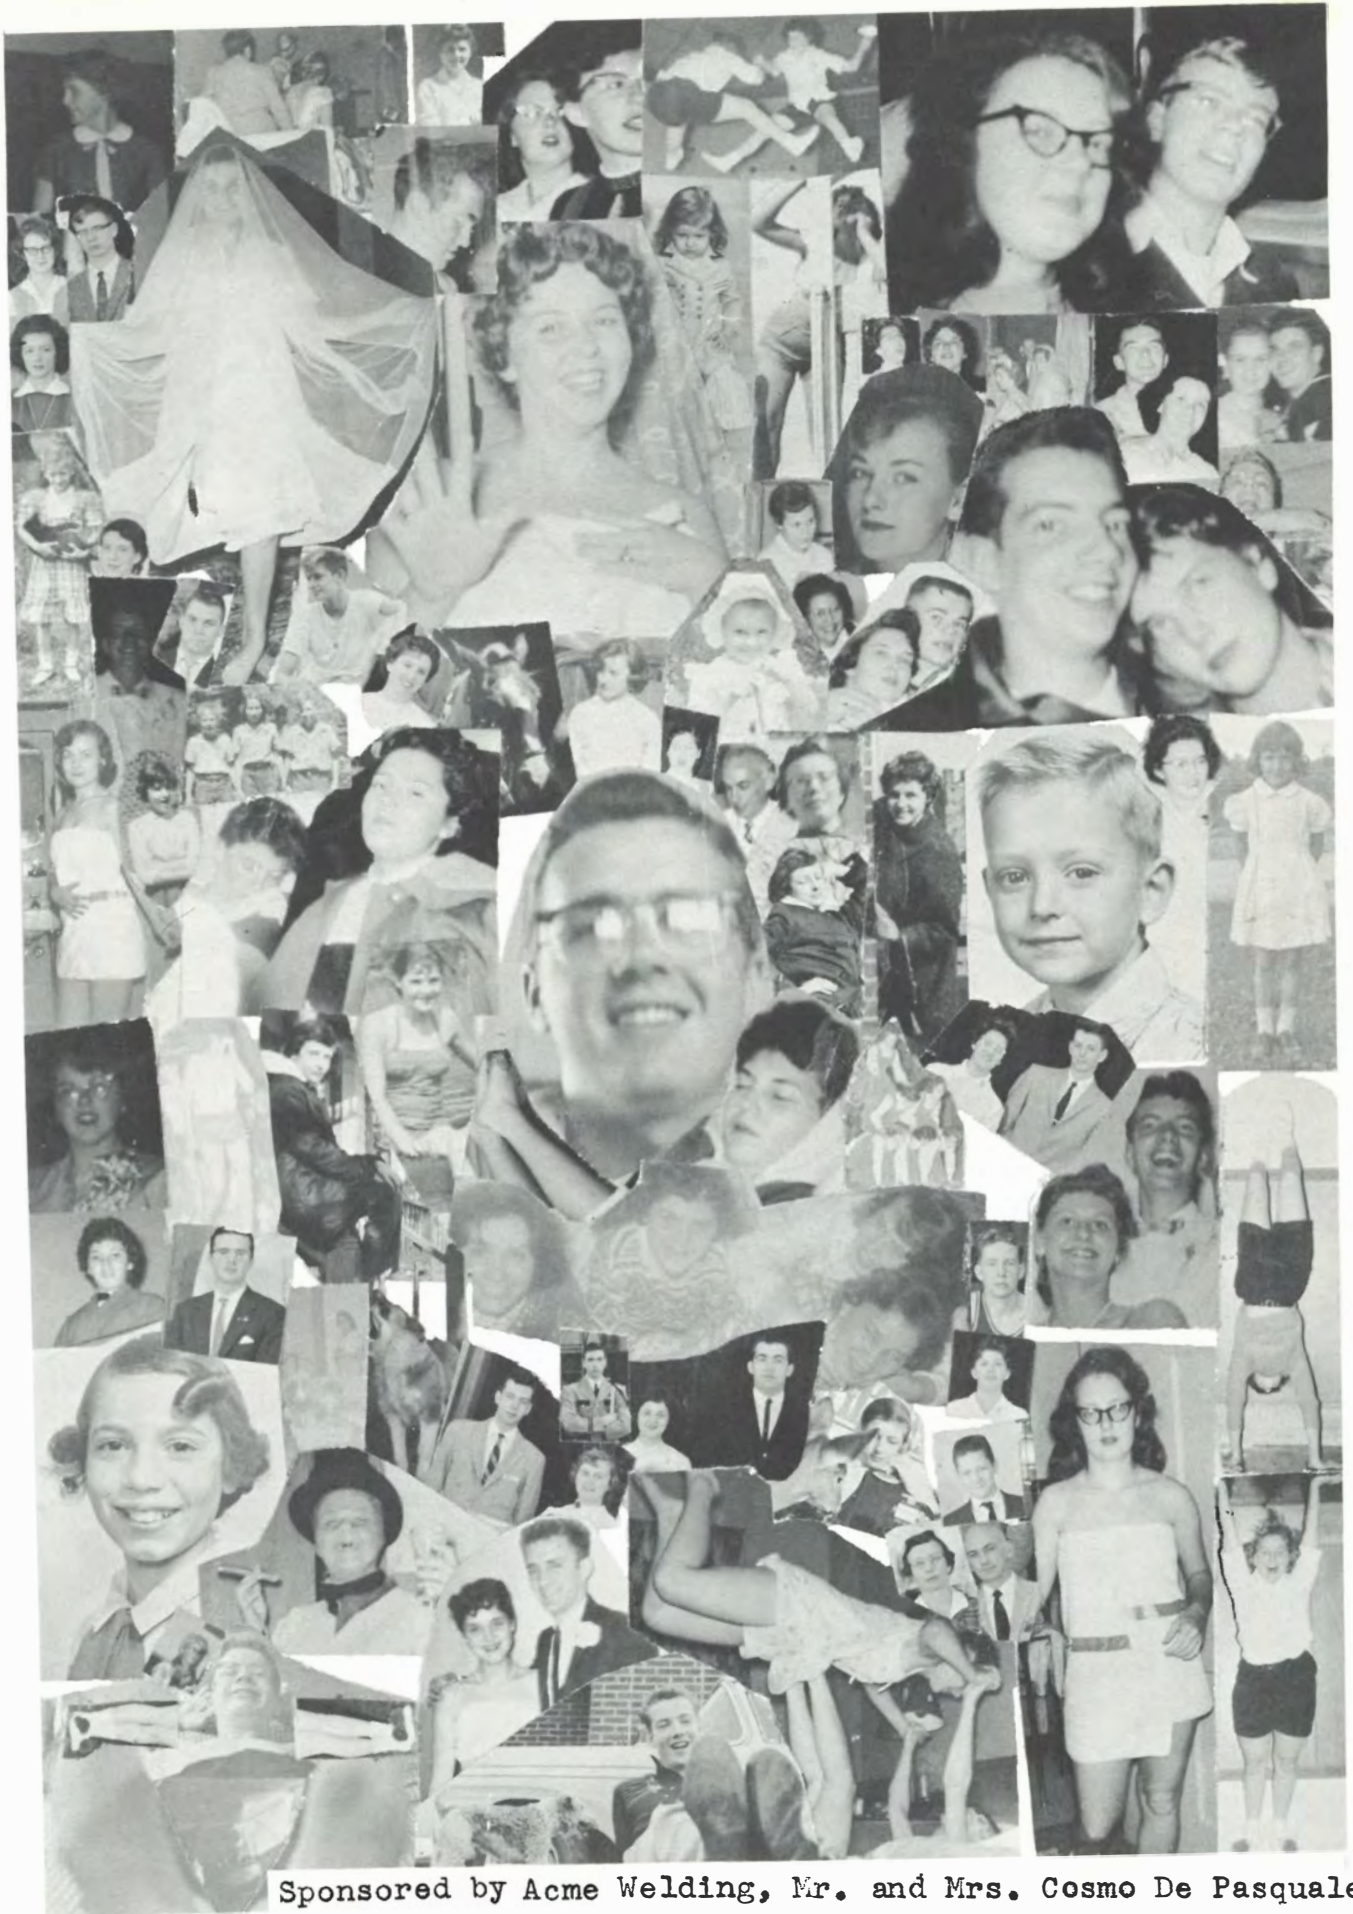

Wilma For a few years Wilma was a successful nurse, but she has recently been transferred to Laos where the setting is less romantic. She was caught holding the male patient's hand too long while taking their temperatures.

WASHINGTON TRIP

On October 28, 1959, the Senior braves and squaws left their teepees at 5:00 A.M. to blaze a new trail to Washington D.C.

Our first stop enroute was at Scranton, where we ate our second breakfast and met our chief, Bob Kulak, who was our guide. Our journey then led us to the Penn-Sherwood Hotel in Philadelphia, where we had our lunch. After eating, we saw the famed Liberty Bell in Independence Hall.

Continuing on our journey, we disembarked at Annapolis, where we were just in time to see an impressive dress parade.

Upon arriving in Washington at 6:15 that evening, the Narrowsburg Indians surveyed their hotel rooms and quickly changed into their nicest finery for dinner at the Casino Royal night club. In the wee hours of the morning, after being on the warpath in the hotel most of the night, the heavy-eyed warriors finally went to bed.

Seemingly in just a few hours, the tribe were awakened from their sleep by the persistent ringing of the telephone. We hurriedly got ready for breakfast, and after eating, our heavily-scheduled day began.

Our first stop was a guided tour of the Bureau of Printing and Engraving. From here we had a guided tour of the FBI building. The next stop was made at the United States Capitol building, where our group photographs were taken. We then proceeded to the Washington Monument, where many of the hardy braves and squaws ascended the 898 steps to the top. After leaving the monument, a stop at the White House was included in our itinerary.

After returning to the hotel for lunch, we continued our tour by making a stop at the Lincoln Memorial. We then went to Arlington National Cemetery, where we saw the changing of the guard at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. Next on our tour was the Marine Statue honoring the men who gave their lives at the battle of Iwo Jima. The remainder of the afternoon was spent on the wide expanse of grounds at Mount Vernon.

After eating dinner at the hotel, we had the rest of the evening free.

On Friday morning we visited the Franciscan Monastery and the Washington Episcopal Cathedral. From here we went to the Washington Zoo, which seemed to be a highlight of the trip to most of the tribe.

On the way back to the hotel for lunch, we passed many of the Embassies and Legations. After eating, we went to the

Sponsored by Rose Merry Inn

1541327

Smithsonian Institute. The rest of the afternoon was free. That night we visited the Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials. From here we proceeded to the Washington National Airport.

On the morning of our fourth and last day in Washington, we walked to the Ford Theater, where Lincoln was assassinated, and then to the house in which he died.

We returned to the hotel and ate our last meal in Washington. Sadly, we took our last glimpse of Washington before boarding the bus for our return trip.

After dinner at the Hotel Gettysburg, we visited the historical Gettysburg battlegrounds where the great Civil War battle was fought.

Several hours later, the bedraggled and de-feathered braves and squaws once again returned to their home.

After four long years of planning for our Washington trip, we found that those four never-to-be-forgotten days had ended all too quickly. Once more we returned to life on the reservation, but although many moons will shine above the mountains, we shall never forget our wonderful trip to our nation's capital.
