

From the moment of my birth
To the instant of my death

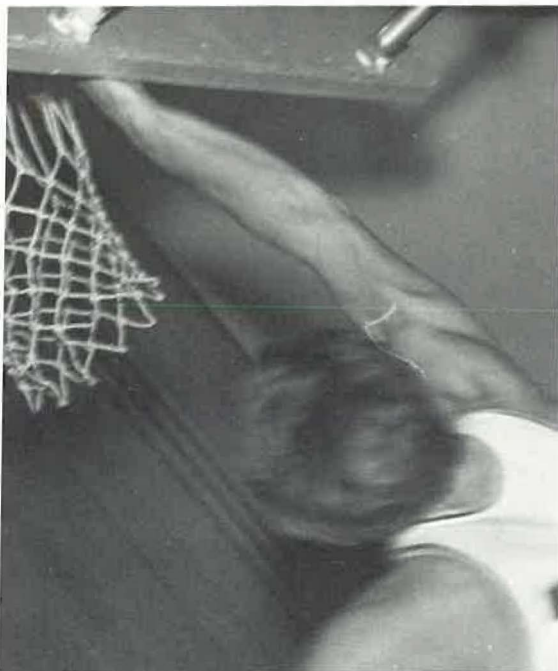

There are patterns I must follow
Just as I breathe each breath

Impaled on my wall
My eyes can dimly see

The pattern of my life
And the puzzle that is me

Like the color of my skin
Or the day that I grow old

My life is made of patterns
That can scarcely be controlled

“There shall be education in this land.”
—James Matthew Barrie

We hereby dedicate this yearbook to the school boards of Narrowsburg Central School, past, present and future. To the concerned men who have unselfishly given of their time and efforts, we say, “Thank you”.

Although their work seldom receives due recognition, it is vital to the existence of Narrowsburg’s educational institution. We cite them, therefore, dedicated and responsible citizens of their community

Thank you.

Class of 1970

Principal

Roy V. Sullivan

To the Class of 1970:

As your High School years are nearing their conclusion, you are all looking ahead toward your final training and careers.

It appears that the world and our own country seem to be in about the worst condition within recent memory. However, if things are bad, there must be many opportunities to improve them. Instead of feeling that all is lost, I hope that you will realize that each and every one of us has the power to make some forward step in solving our many problems. It may be that our world and our country will never reach a period where there are no real problems facing us. If that were so, life would not be very challenging.

The darkness is always deeper just before dawn, so I challenge your generation to take advantage of the opportunities that you have to make this a better world.

Good luck and best wishes!

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Roy V. Sullivan". The signature is written in dark ink and is positioned above the printed name.

Life is the game that must be played:

This truth at least, good friends we know;

So live and laugh, nor be dismayed

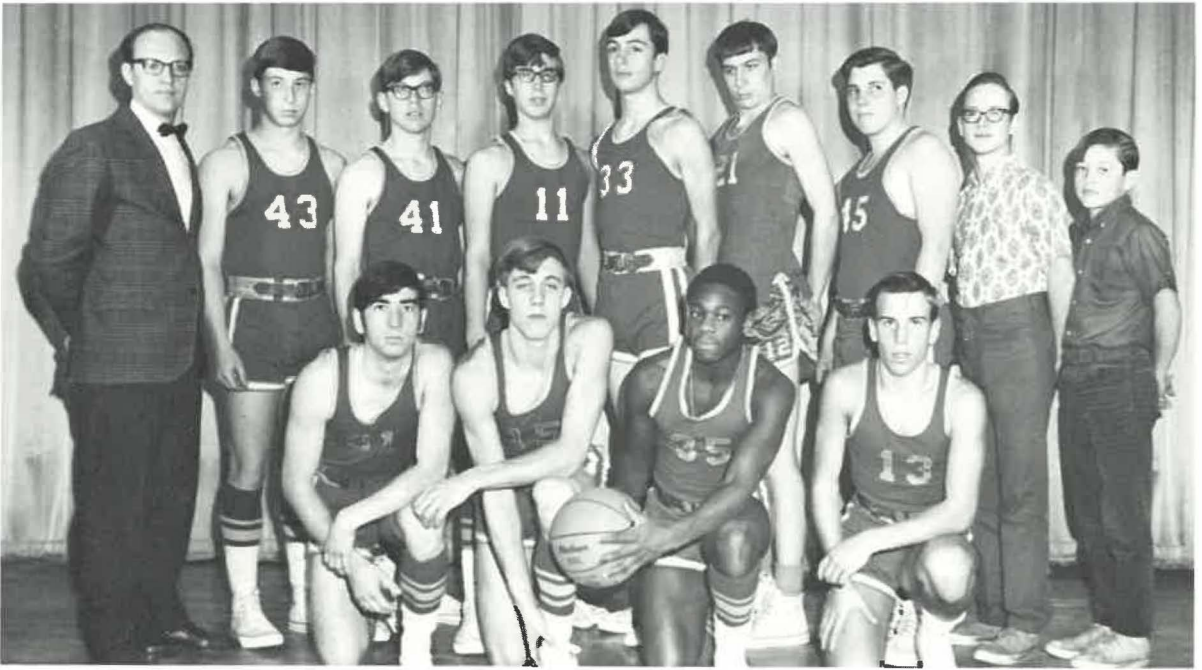

As, one by one, the victories and defeats come and go.

The Seniors

Class History

As freshmen here we entered. The year was 1966. We were quite a group, 19 of us altogether. Ethan, John, Beth, Kathy, Barb, Karen, Linda, Ed, Scott, Al, Sue, Bob, Tom, Art, Everett, Frank, Mel, Jay, Marianne and Mike filled the bill. It was the year we had a championship baseball team. It was the year of Miss Murphy, Miss Dyszcko and Mr. Harrison. It was the biggest year in our class's financial history. Our freshman dinner broke all records. (Incidentally, it was our class which instituted the no-wait dinner program). Yes, it was a very big year.

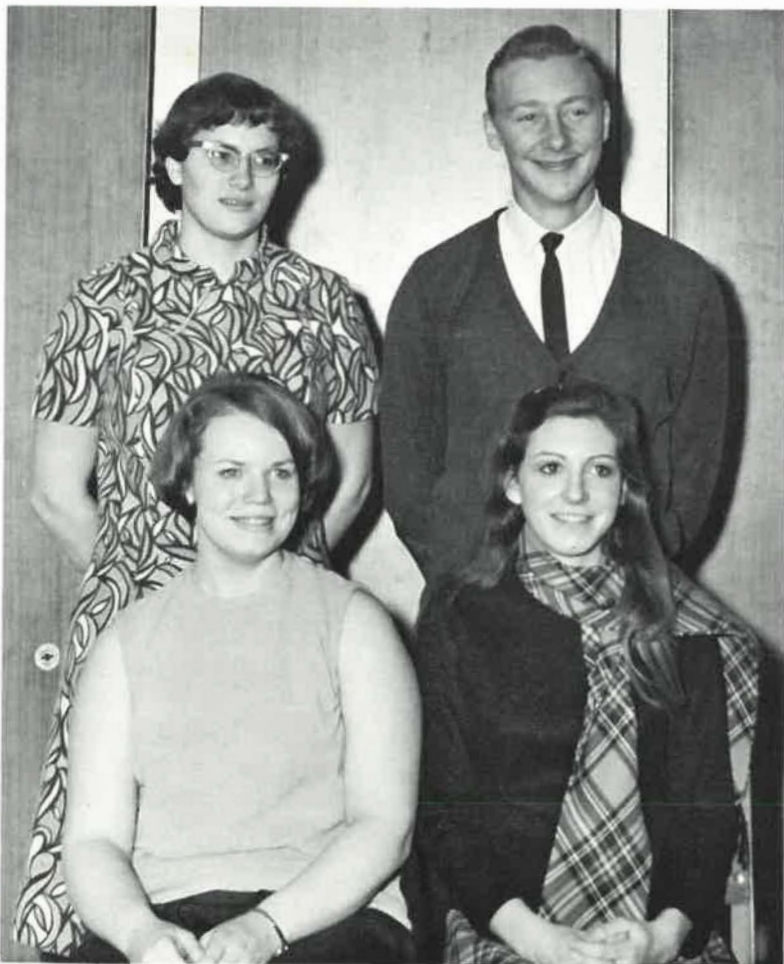

Our sophomore year started with a bang and the loss of three of our classmates. Sue was bound for Monticello, Tom for Jeffersonville and Mel for Japan. A part of ourselves left with those three dear friends, but we adapted to the loss, took careful stock of what we had left and plowed on courageously to a new year. Our first big business venture was "The Psychedelic Mermaid" featuring the psychedelic mermaid (who was quite a gal) and the "Invaders", which was quite a band. Under the guidance of our faithful Mr. Scheuren and our enthusiastic new advisor, Miss Limberg, we proceeded to make both our dance and dinner very profitable. A lot of remarkable things came to pass that year. The Red Sox lost the Series. Frank got his driver's license. The mermaid was set adrift in the Delaware, where, according to legend she lures innocent Boy Scouts, canoeing down the river, to their death in the depths. It was a year which found us maturing in body and mind. The boys finally looked down at the girls instead of up. We all learned vocabulary and were exposed to culture by witnessing Julius Caesar and a ballet. This was truly a year of transformation.

The following year found us juniors and with one addition and one subtraction to our number. (Vicki joined us at the end of our sophomore year and left in the middle of our junior year). We 17 embarked upon a year filled with surprises, success, laughter and love. We recognized a financial need and set ourselves to organizing a dinner starring roast beef which had had two successful runs in previous years. A third epicurean triumph was added to our list. The Celtics won the championship. Everett Horst Baer made his glorious basketball debut and skyrocketed to stardom in one short season. Scott revealed a flair for business by proving himself a regular grocery market boy Friday. And Mike made the scene on a Harley Davidson. Of course, the highlight of that year was "Only An Orphan Girl". The dramatis personae included Mike, Marianne, Linda, Ethan, Barbara, and Beth. John obliged the class by assuming the role of Assistant director. Under the skillful direction of Miss Limberg we soared to the heights of dramatic success. "Love is Blue" proceeded without a flaw. Patrons danced to the tune of Al Priebe and his Serenaders and the evening was a vision of blue. That was a year of happenings.

Now we are seniors, and thirteen years have passed since we began our educational experience. This year, our last, we have welcomed three new boys to our ranks, Craig, Charlie and Rick. We have gone on the annual trip to Washington. We've been fitted for our graduation gowns. Now there's only that one big decision left to make. What will happen to the twenty students who get their diplomas this June?
